

Massachusetts Psychiatric Society's Public Sector Committee is pleased to present

Evolving Systems — Integrated Care, ACOs, and Psychiatry

Program Objectives

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Describe new systems of care and integration initiatives in Massachusetts
 - Understand the new roles of the mental health team in integrated care
 - Understand key interventions available in collaborative care
 - Learn how to implement registries to treat patients to a target
- Explore ways in which integrated care is provided in community health centers, community mental health centers, and academic and private settings
- Explain how private practitioners might integrate with primary care
- Examine the integrated health needs of a population or community
- Consider how psychiatrists can and must provide leadership in this area
- Understand how implementation of the ACO model may affect their practice and their patients

Program Description

Today the busy practicing psychiatrist is challenged by evolving models of care (e.g. collaborative care) and payment reform. While these care models may often seem overwhelming and even disruptive to care delivery, it is possible to leverage them to improve efficiency, quality, and even revenue. This MPS CME activity aims to offer the practical and hands on knowledge that a psychiatrist needs to know in order to 'catch up to speed' as care delivery and reimbursement continue to shift. No background or familiarity with collaborative care or ACOs is required. Topics covered will include use of new models of care like collaborative care, ACO implementation, and payment reform.
